Activity

A sphere of action: social activity; work, especially in school that involves a direct experience rather than textbook study.

Registration

Whether they are getting ready for a picture not taken or comparing the same afterwards, everybody is concerned about the image they project. This is especially true during registration. The closing of Central High School brought 325 new faces to our halls and registration tables were the initial meeting places for those who were previously unacquainted. Another group adjusting to the new environment was the sophomores, but as expected, confusion and noise died quickly as school began and students settled with friends old and new.

A turn in national politics brought a twist to the campaign methods of both the Personal Service and Applied Power Effectively parties. Satirical or serious, each group offered full representation for all students. As in national elections, the fulfillment of campaign promises remains unknown until the party is in power. Despite its name, the "A.P.E." party has not performed in the manner suggested. They were very efficient. Surprisingly enough computerization has not taken over the counting of ballots. Manual labor is required to complete this tedious task.

Apart from the usual gaiety of assemblies were serious programs that brought information about recent technological advancements. The computer, that seems to cause many of society's problems today, is opening up new career choices for the future.

Queen's Assembly

Homecoming, a time for long-waist dresses and zoot suits. This year's theme, the Roaring Twenties, was created with nostalgic costumes, songs, and dances of those uproarious years. From assembly's curtain raising to music of that period played by the Blue Notes, until the Queen and her court toured the stadium in classic cars, the theme was designed to recreate a period which for all students never existed.

Faculty

The entire teaching and administrative force of a school: the departments of learning

Superintendent of Schools Harold Wenaas, Ed D.

Administrators

In addition to performing duties outlined by state laws, trustees make implementing decisions regarding curriculum changes, building plans, acquisitions, and personnel matters affecting the district's complement of over 1,000 teachers and about 400 non-certified personnel. This year trustees were faced with substantial student increases in the two high schools because Great Falls Central didn't open its doors in the fall of 1973. Additionally, trustees were faced with acquiring either the closed Central plant, or building another facility to replace the deteriorating facilities at Paris Gibson Junior High, and at press time no final decision had been made, although architects and engineers had evaluated the Central plant. The district operated much of the first semester without Dr. Harold Wenaas, who suffered a serious illness which caused his absence, and the superintendent's official duties fell to Assistant Superintendent John Kranick who performed a double official function since he also carried on his duties as curriculum director for the district. As the Roundup went to press for this section, major personnel decisions facing the trustees were that of replacing the resigned GFHS football coach Gene Carlson, as well as negotiating a contract for all certified personnel.

John D. Stephenson; Howard Gaare; Dr. Charles Steele; Assistant Superintendent for Business Karl Erickson; Chairman William McFadden; Acting Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent John Kranick; Elliot Dybdal; Mrs. Wallace Baker.

In Memory of
Paul David Buck
Chairman, Science Department
Feb. 21, 1916 - Nov. 24, 1973

Grief is felt not so much for the loss of what we have never known, but for the loss of that to which we have long been accustomed and have learned to cherish. When a friend dies, an epitaph can never truly be written by those who knew and loved him, but it can and does remain unwritten and enshrined in the breast of everyone who counted him as a friend and there should be no tablet to preserve it except the heart.

Honored Musicians

Chosen to sing with the combined University Chorale and Missoula Symphonic Choir this year were Denice Burgess, sitting, and Lynette Pryor and Kathy Rowe. The three girls were among twenty singers, chosen from the entire state, who traveled to Missoula, April 17, for five days of rehearsal before the Sunday performance of the Brahms Requiem under the direction of Robert Shaw.

Gary Gemberling, a member of the 1973 McDonald's All-American High School Band, receives congratulations from NBC-TV Rose Parade host John Davidson. Gary traveled to Pasadena, California, where he performed in the Tournament of Roses Parade. He was one of 102 top high school musicians from each state and the District of Columbia who were selected for the All-American Band.

Lynette Pryor- soprano and Alan Gemberling- trombonist are this year's winners of the annual $500 Youth Scholarship presented by the Great Falls Symphony Orchestra Association. They were selected by four judges from outside Great Falls from the twelve finalists in the North Montana area. Both performed solos at the Symphony concert at the Civic Center Auditorium.

Delphian Travels To Anaheim

A September dream became a March 22 reality when Delphian choir flew to Anaheim, California as a featured choral group during the Music Educator's National Conference. Only five high school choirs from the entire United States were selected for guest appearances. While there, the choir also sang at St. Basil's Church in downtown Los Angeles, and appeared in a special concert at Pasadena High School.

Monday, March 25, was Disneyland night for the MENC, and all students and delegates were admitted at greatly reduced fees and were eligible for free rides.

"The trip," said Director Paul Ritter, "was memorable, exciting, exhilarating, and exhausting. G H S was well represented through this choir."

Expo 74, Band

Larson

The G F H S Bands have consistently been noted for their excellence. For years they have been considered one of the finest if not the finest in the Northwest. This year was no exception - many groups had been invited to perform at Expo 74 but we are certain that the Symphonic Band and Blue Notes represented G F H S in a way all would be proud of. The program presented at Expo was one to entertain. Good band literature appealing to the general fair-going public was chosen. The Blue Notes featured the Bisonettes in their presentatian. The Band and orchestra needed $6000.00 to travel ta Expa. This money, along with the funds needed for the Delphian trip to Anaheim, was all raised by the students. Various selling campaigns, dances, and concerts were means of raising the necessary funds. The band appreciated the suppart of the school and community in attaining this gaal.

William Larson, Director

Expo 74, Orchestra

Madden

During the past five years the Orchestra has grown in numbers and proficiency ta a paint af excellence that makes it one af the better orchestras in Montana and surrounding states. Excellence is a factor in determining an invitation for an appearance at Expo '74. The invitation had been accepted; the archestra performed during the Memarial Day week's events. The trip was a fitting reward for much hard work by the students - bath in the practice room and with respect to raising money for the trip. There are nat many opportunities for expasure for the archestra, and an appearance at the Fair was particularly welcame. Within the orchestra, a Baroque ensemble performed separately. In addition to bringing recognition to talented students and an excellent music program at G F H S, the trip was a tribute to the townspeople wha have supported the various expense drives. The music faculty and the students are appreciative af this community effort. The three days spent at the Fair served to enrich the students involved. They also brought some appreciation af music efforts in Great Falls to those who live autside the state.

A thirty-seven year old model of GFHS Bison stadium, complete with players and a scale model of the school itself, has been on display most of this year atop the trophy case. Designed, cast, cut and assembled by Mev Cottier, long time Bison fan, the entire work at one time also included over 400 spectators. Mr. Cottier, who also designed the original and subsequent insignia for Bison teams, was for many years manager of the Murphy-Maclay hardware store in the city. The store was a leading supplier of school athletic supplies in this area for many years before it closed 10 years ago. Bison insignia date to 1909, and the Cottier collection will be reassembled as a part of Bison history. Assisting Mr. Cottier is Jack Throckmorton, a member of the 1937 Bison team.

Thanks to all

As has been said, written, and even cursed many times, spring deadlines for the sports section come all too early! It is only through extreme patience and kindness by the coaches that spring sports even make it into the book. Standing in the gym or in the snow with an ever faithful team behind them, posing for pictures before a season has even started, coaches make this section possible.

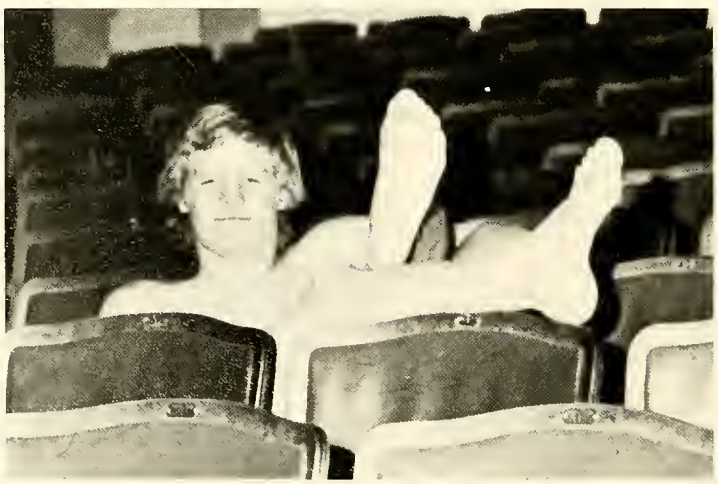

A simple thanks to ALL coaches and teams for the always mountainous statistics and pictures from all occasions.

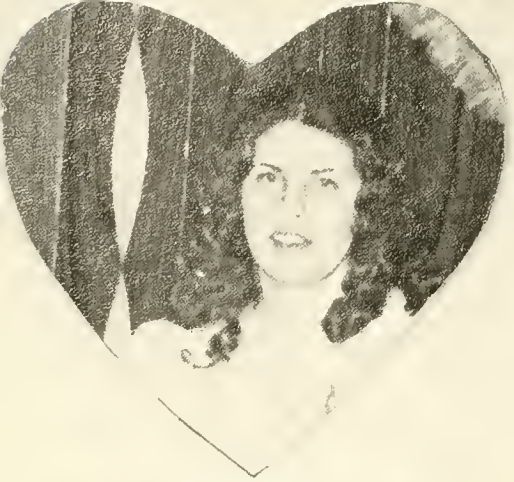

Perhaps the newest and most popular sport for this year is that wonderful thing--streaking. Since it is so popular it deserves a place in the yearbook. As for the reason for the increase in popularity it could be for any of the following reasons: it goes against the grain of those who wish not to be naked, it's something revolutionary but yet doens't harm anyone, or even just because there's nothing else to do. Whatever the reason we all enjoy the thought.

Streakers!!

Initially attracting more than 40 girls, 15 semi-finalists were selected of whom 11 were from GFHS. Final judging was based upon poise, personality, general appearance, scholastic achievement, and talent. Judging was before a JC panel with the program open to the general public. Edie Guenthner, GFHS, was named pageant winner, with Leslie Davis, CMR, named first runner-up. and Anna Miller, GFHS, second runner-up. Later in 1974 the local winner competed in a state tournament for the state Junior Miss title.

Edie presents as her talent competition, a musical narration about flying.

Stacy Flaherty congratulates newly crowned Edie Guenthner.

Theme of Homecoming '73 was 'The Roaring Twenties.' The day opened with two assemblies which introduced queen candidates to the student body. It continued after lunch with a rousing pep assembly, followed by a parade led by the Bison band and Majorettes, and which featured floats and decorated cars. A barbeque was served in the gym and during it a pie eating contest pitted junior boys against senior boys, and the latter won easily. The traditional football game saw the Bison hosting the Billings Broncs, and the Thundering Herd smashed to victory. At halftime Sue Johnson was crowned queen and she and her court reigned over the Homecoming dance which ended the events.

A word about scholarships and other financial aids. . . . . .

Four main financial aids are available to college freshmen who can qualify. They are scholarships, loans, and campus jobs as well as federal grants. Criteria considered by college officials charged with awarding financial aid includes class rank determined by grade point average, high school courses studied, school attended, standarized test scores, recommendations, leadership activities, and financial need. The basic grant from the federal government is determined by need.

Generally, scholarship winners must have an overall grade point average of 3.000 or higher, post strong standarized test scores, and prove financial need. The grade point average must be inclusive for grades 9-12. Some scholarships, especially Montana High School Honor Scholarships, are awarded irrespective of financial need.

In recent years various kinds of financial aids have been made available for students who have earned a C average or better if they prove financial need, and many colleges require financial reports when students apply for such financial aid. Usually, these forms must be filed by January 1 each year, but sometimes may be filed as late as April 1 at some colleges.

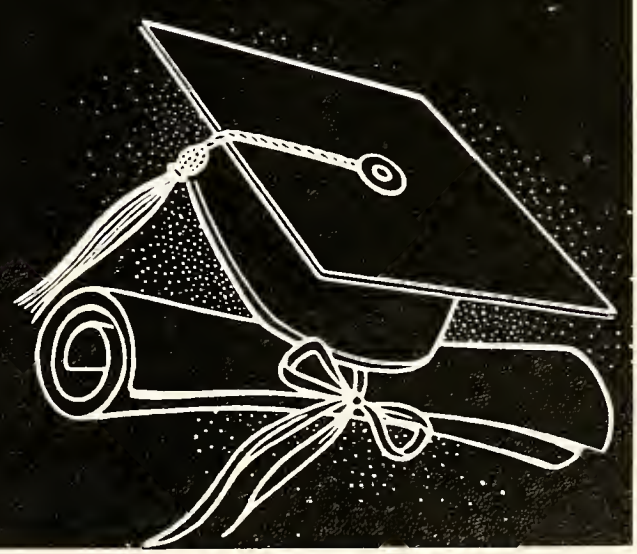

An indication of the value of scholarships received in the past by GFHS students is evident that as of the beginning of the fall term of college or university study in 1973, the 1973 graduating seniors had received scholarships and special monetary awards amounting to $135,986.50. Some of these were renewable four year scholarships, while others were nonrenewable. Financial aids encompassing National Direct Student Loans, work-study aid, or basic educational opportunity grants have not been included in the above total.

Federal grants and loans are available to needy students who attend trade-technical schools and Vo-Tech schools.

Deadlines for the yearbook make it impossible to include more meaningful money values as they relate to the class of 1974, and also preclude including more honors or awards than appear as a part of this page.

Today's Army says:

"Put an extra hundred grand in your hand."

As a high school graduate, you will earn at least $100,000 more during your productive years than dropouts – that's what statistics show.

That's why Today's Army urges you to stay in school. Then, after you get your diploma, Today's Army wants to help you plan an intelligent future.

Your Army Representative will give you straight and honest information about the 300 job opportunities the Army offers – how you will earn while you learn, starting at $326.00 a month, with free room and board, free medical and dental care and 30 days yearly paid vacation.

Not bad, huh?

But first things come first. Get that hundred grand's worth of diploma. Then get the Army story straight from your Army Representative. See him at U. S. ARMY RCTG STA

Editors' note on completing the book . . .

As Robert Burns said, "The best laid schemes o' mice an' men gang oft agley." This statement has been proven true by this year's book.

Everyone started with high hopes and many plans, but due to many circumstances beyond our control—such as changed dates for events, administrative decisions to leave out previously included material and activities, pictures not taken, and sections left hanging by the staff to be finished by "someone else"—changes had to be made. This year as a whole, however, has been a wonderful experience in spite of all the difficulties.

We should like to apologize now for any errors or omissions made in this book. In any undertaking of this size it is impossible to produce a book totally free of mistakes, and the staff did its utmost to guard against errors which always seem to sneak in somehow. We hope you'll understand.

We should like to thank the entire staff for the time and effort which was put into the book. However, we feel especially grateful to Mark Renne, who not only completed his tough sports section, but also boosted morale in the publications room. We should also like to thank our parents who understood the need for us spending so much time away from home. Our special thanks to Mr. Spahr for handling all the disagreements over color, layouts, and placement of copy as a concerned advisor.

This book will be filled with many memories for us and we hope there will be many—although of a different kind—for you.

Laurie Grena editor-in-chief
Debbie Mauer assistant editor
